JOHN H. LYNDE, - - PROPRIETOR.

FRIDAY, MAY 21, 1869.

The South, and more especially Georgia, is somewhat disappointing the hopes of all loyal men. Reconstruction is hardly able to quell the evil spirit that to a great extent has been prevalent since it first took root in the early history of slavery. Its Democracy has always been of the physical nature, and neither war nor reconstruction upon that best basis can uproot the prejudices of so many years, and of so much studied ignorance. Its honor is of that sort that surrenders only to disarm its conquerors and then to murder its unsuspecting benefactors. The Democracy that has had possession of Georgia has no more sympathy with the institutions of the United States than have the prowling bandits of Mexico. They are only loyal by force; they are only peaceable through fear; they are only friendly while concealing fiendish schemes. The northern papers who do not read the Southern papers can scarcely appreciate the infernal treason and wickedness that darken the career of the so-called Democrats of the South. It would do thought enough to enact the treacherous infamy of the late Georgia Legislature, but that does not begin to tell half the story of the wrongs they do. When the "Georgia Committee" composed of peaceable and eminent citizens, went to Washington to plead with the Administration to come to the aid of the loyal people and to discountenance the acts of the rebels, the threat went after them that they ought to die by the wayside. Their return has scarcely been recorded in weeks when two of them are fiendly murdered, with no apparent cause, save that their influence is for law and order. Mr. Adkins, and Dr. Ayer had no personal quarrel, they had entered no bitter political contest, but a cool determination had been agreed upon that what could not be gained by discussion and the ballot should be accomplished by the bullet and the knife. The fiends laid in wait for their victims, and murdered them.

We hear a good deal about the inducements offered "Northern men to emigrate South." But the plain unvarnished truth is, the entertainment is not inviting, the picture is anything but pleasant to look upon. Nor will the invitation be heeded by sensible Northern men so long as any large proportion of the communities are under the control or influence of the Democratic party. As a mere party discussion this would seem a hard judgment, but it is the truth wrung from many unwilling pens in the North. Failing to succeed in a square, fair civilized contest, Democracy has dwindled into barbarism and fights its political battles under the black flag and for extermination. It is only carrying out its inclination for the past eight years, to rule or to ruin. It is only putting to the test Frank Blair's threat of what a Democratic administration should do. To keep their country impoverished, ignorant, lawless, is so evidently to their interest that these deeds of violence are not unexpected by those who know the Southern elements best. But the North and the Administration have never been able to appreciate the awful design of the Southern Democratic leaders and their ignorant parasites, which seemed to be to keep their States conveniently small in an industrial sense in order to insure Democratic supremacy.

Notwithstanding our endeavors to have the East considered in the Democratic nomination for Governor, the West seems to lead off in the number of candidates. Mayor Putnam of Portland has entered the ring, and Judge Rice of Augusta seems to be hanging on the verge of consenting. These gentlemen seem to us no improvement upon the others mentioned in the West. Mr. Putnam was "treely loil" during the war, and he is not, a Democrat according to the down east standard. It is even rumored that he is in favor of enforcing the liquor law impartially, and that he declined to take a large salary for no work, and that's not Democracy. As to Mr. Putnam, therefore, we believe the rumor erroneous, and a slander upon the Democratic party. He may be nominated by some bolting Republicans, but, the war being a failure, not by the party which observed that phenomenon at Chicago and afterwards at Tammany Hall was going to dump Congress into the Atlantic. As for Judge Rice, nothing can be said positively against him. Quite likely a search will be immediately commenced into his political lineage to prove his Democratic legitimacy. It is believed that the Democratic Convention will demand that the record of its candidate shall be, as they take its whiskey, straight.

It is too bad to spoil a Democratic handle for argument, they really have none to spare. But the Portland Argus rather stepped in it the other day when it announced in black letters, "Another chance for Impeachment!" It went off prematurely upon the report that the Postmaster of Washington declined to be removed by the President under the new tenure of office act, and closed its pleasant leader with "Rebellion in the camp of radical office holders has commenced!" As it before the Argus had fairly been digested by its readers (and this is not insinuating, that that paper is any way indigestible) the old postmaster retreated in good order. Try again: There's nothing like perseverence, even in a bad cause, and even if the best laid schemes seem to tumble and crumble, and even if the Democratic party is in a state of chronic collapse.

The Connecticut Legislature is deluged with petitions for release from the State Prison. The Democracy there need recruits, but unfortunately for them and well for the State, Andy Johnson is not able to deliver any more jail birds.

Having due regard for the welfare of its party leaders, the Boston Post has made a truce with its enemies, and is lecturing upon the "treatment of the insane."

By direction of the President, all departments will be closed Saturday, the 29th of May, to enable officers and employees to participate in the ceremonies of decorating the graves of Union soldiers and sailors at Washington.

The customs receipts of the principal ports from May 10th to the 15th inclusive are, Boston, $682,978; New York, $2,640,000; Philadelphia, $256,718; Baltimore, 260,857; San Francisco, April 16th to the 30th, $207,816.

Chief Justice Chase has decided another of the many legal points which have arisen from the rebellion. It is suit against the city of Richmond, to make her redeem her small notes, to the amount of $100,000 issued during the war, it was decided that having been issued to aid the rebellion they cannot be redeemed. The legislature which authorized their issue was de facto a legislature and had power to grant such authority, and that the notes been issued for any legal purpose, and not for the subversion of the government, they would be liable to redemption.

VIRGINIA. Prominent Virginia politicians say that in the forthcoming July elections in that State the disfranchisement and test oath clauses of the new constitution will be voted down by a majority of three to one, but that the constitution itself will be adopted. Considerable dissatisfaction is said to exist in the State at the action of the President in refusing to include the county election clause in the excepted portions of the constitution, but the desire is felt everywhere to restore the State to practical relations with the Union. The canvass so far does not appear very bitter, and the conservatives are confident that they will obtain a large majority of the colored vote.

The crop prospects of the State are said to be very good as compared with former years, but the tobacco planters are discouraged owing to the low price of that article. A great deal of poverty and almost destitution exists among the humbler classes to a greater degree perhaps than any other State of the Union. The immigration to Virginia is almost imperceptible, and very little northern or eastern capital finds its way there. Lands are still very cheap and speculators appear to think that investments in the region of Richmond and Norfolk will prove the most profitable.

The Journal's special Washington dispatch says Secretary Boutwell's financial policy does not please many of the New York specie ulators, who now appear anxious to have his removal from the Cabinet; but there is not the slightest chance of their success. It is not improbable that Secretary Cox may be transferred to the new United States Judgeship in Ohio next fall, or that the health of Secretary Rawlins may prompt him to resign, but there are the best reasons for believing that President Grant will not accept the resignation of this Secretary of the Treasury.

EMIGRATION FROM CANADA. Commissioner Wilson, of the General Land Office, Washington, is in receipt of a letter from a prominent citizen of Canada dated Stratford, May 14, in relation to the emigration from Canada to the United States. The letter says:

"Instead of diminishing, the tide of emigration is increasing. Thousands, thousands are leaving Canada. The little town of St. John is pouring out nearly its whole population. The same can be said of nearly all the towns of Canada East. Last night a considerable party left here for California via the Union Pacific Railroad. I cannot estimate the numbers from Ontario West, or Ontario, as it is now called, that are emigrating. Considerable alarm is manifested by the authorities in consequence of the exodus.

Political and Personal.

The Woodstock Acadian calls the Province of Provincials to the United States piecemeal annexation.

Dr. W. M. Compton of Holly Springs is proposed by Democratic papers as candidate for Governor of Mississippi.

Judge Edmunds has taken possession of the Washington Post Office. His predecessor did not claim the benefit of tenure of office act, as previously reported.

Donnelly declines to run for Governor of Minnesota, but will push his friend, Gen'l J.T. Averill. The favorite of the Irish party is the present Governor Marshall.

The Republicans of Iowa will hold their State Convention at Des Moines on Thursday, the 10th day of June, 1869.

The President has made between eighty and ninety appointments since the adjournment of the Senate—about half of which are suspensions under the modified tenure of office act.

It is now pretty certain that Gov. Peter T. Washburn of Woodstock, will be the next Governor of Vermont.

Dr. Norton, a colored man, of York Co., Virginia, announces himself as an independent candidate for Congress against Colonel Ayers, the Wells candidate.

Gen. Butler, who is in Washington, has made himself acquainted with the exact condition of affairs in Georgia, and intends to demand of the President and the Secretary of War, before he goes home, that the existing lawlessness may be put down by military power.

The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer says the advices from Virginia indicate that the Constitution will be submitted, as per Presidents Proclamation, will have the entire Democratic and Conservative vote thrown against it, in hope that if they can defeat it in toto, they can get a new convention, which will frame a constitution to suit the element better.

Outrages in Georgia.

Senator Sumner has received a letter from Edwin Belcher, the new colored Assessor of Internal Revenue in the 3d district of Georgia, giving the following account of outrages on colored men in that State:

"Since my last letter two more colored men have fallen victims of rebel hate and treachery. A colored man that knew the cowardly villain that killed Senator Adkins was indiscreet enough to state that he knew the party, and he paid for it with his life last Tuesday night at Stonington, Columbia County, about 27 miles from this city, on the Georgia Railroad. The other man, an expelled member of the Legislature, by the name of Alexander Stone, was killed at his home in Jefferson County, where old man Benj. Ayer was killed a few weeks ago. I have the from unpublishable authority, and yet we are told that Georgia is legally reconstructed, and all is quiet from the mountains to the sea. Is there a God to Israel? His vengeance cannot sleep forever. The blood of men, who were slain, for no other cause than because they were trying to elevate a poor, degraded race out of the darkness in which an inhuman servitude had left them, cry out to the nation for protection to the living. Every murder is studied upon some poor, ignorant colored man.

The rebel presses continue their malicious tirades against me personally. I care nothing for their abuse, but it arouses the evil passions of the murderers that infest my district against my assistants. I learn from good authority that the Legislature at its next session intends to impeach Governor Bullock, and in order to do that they will have to have a majority in the State Senate. This may throw some light on the death of Senator Adkins.

If Congress does not interfere in our behalf, every loyal man in Georgia that can get away will become an exile."

Rev. Mr. Spelman, an editor in the Northern Methodist Episcopal Church, was mobbed in a hotel at Waynesboro, 32 miles from this city, on Sunday evening last, and only escaped with his life by the aid of some colored men who escorted him.

What are we to do? I have no fears for myself, but it is terrible in the country."

This letter is a small portion of the evidence recently received at Washington that the General Government should exercise its authority in Georgia. The appointment of competent colored men to office could but have great weight in convincing the unrepentant rebels that they must gracefully submit to the laws of the land.

FROM WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, May 20

The Secretary of the Treasury has directed the Assistant Treasurer at New York to sell gold hereafter, until other wise ordered, to the extent of two millions dollars weekly, instead of one million as heretofore, on account of surplus gold still accumulating in the Treasury.

Major Moore, of the San Antonio Express had an interview this evening with President Grant. The Major assured the President that it would be folly to expect the Republican party to gain a victory in case an election was ordered in Texas immediately, and urged delay.

The President stated that there would be no election in Texas before Nov. in any event, and also that General Reynolds had not recommended an early election, as had been fatimated

Major Moore was Assistant Adjutant General of Sheridan's First Cavalry, division, Department of the Gulf, in 1865, and was latoned to by the President with much interest.

The custom agents under the newly appointed plan of Secretary Boutwell have nearly all been commissioned.

Hon. Sam'l Shellabarger, Minister to Portugal, arrived here to-day to receive his instructions. He had an interview with the President and Secretary Fish.

The minority report setting forth the claims of Charleston, New Orleans, Savannah and Mobile, was presented by Dr. Lindsey of Alabam, which elicited allong debate. Adjourned.

The Insurrection in Cuba

HAVANA May 20.

The reports of the taking of filibusters which are in circulation, cannot be traced to any authentic source. No expedition has landed near Sagua. The steamer Salvador has gone to some other point. It is impossible for the expedition to effect a landing at any point on the coast between Havana and Nuevitas, as the Spanish cruisers are very numerous all along that line, and in any other part of the island it would be difficult for an expedition to find a foothold, owing to the watchfulness of the Government.

Sympathizers with the revolution complain of Admiral Hoff's dispatches in the New York papers; but the intelligence given in those dispatches is as reliable and correct as can possibly be obtained under the circumstances, and can be objected to only because it discredits the exaggerated reports which are set afloat by Cuban partisans.

Admiral Hoff enjoys the unlimited confidence of the American residents here.

The report is officially confirmed that the rebels have burned the town of Manicaragua.

The Sabonilla Railroad is again in running order.

I., who is visiting the Methodist Conference now in session in this city, will deliver his celebrated and popular lecture, entitled "The Genius Woman" in the City Hall to-night. Those who are able to be present will surely enjoy a rare treat. Mr. Trafton is sufficiently known in this city to need no further recommendation as a lecturer. Subject to also among the most fruitful and popular questions of the day. To those who wish to know which side the reverend gentleman takes upon a theme which so agitates the public mind, we can only say—"Come and see." This concludes the Union Street Course begun last winter.

—We clip the following notice of the stereopticon, which is to open in this city next week from the New York Tribune:

"The most marvelous thing in the world, exceeding all other curious, startling, apparently preternatural wonders, is the stereoscope. Apart from the mystery of sunpainting on the instant, there is the tremendous fact of the apparent solidification of the objects—the reproduction of nature's self or of art's to the minutest detail.

This immense artistic agency is now exhibited upon a magnificent scale. A large reflecting and magnifying instrument is elevated in the centre of the room, which being darkened, the pictures is cast upon a plain canvas surface of twenty-five feet square. The objects are, however, not flat pictures, magnified and reflected from the original in the instrument, but are stereoscopic views, with the apparently massive and and stupendous solidification of the new order of delineation. Some especially the statues seem the actual, very solids as marble and beautiful as the original Medician sculptures. The most beautiful landscapes, architecture, works of art of various countries form the stereoscopic procession.

The success of this stereopticon, has been perfectly immense wherever it has exhibited this season.

—Sawyer advertises today some views of Bangor. He is making landscape views a speciality in photography, and has many excellent ones of our familiar streets and places. In other respects, he holds his own with the best.

—Contractors will find in our advertising columns, a notice from the County Commissioners, for proposals for furnishing materials and building a new Jail and House of Correction in this city. The work is to be commenced with in seven days and pushed. Workmen have taken down the old building upon the lot, and the brick house in front on Hammond street will be taken down immediately.

Kenwood House.—A well known by reference to our advertising column, this popular summer resort at Searboro Beach, has been leased by our fellow citizen Otis Kelley Esq., and put in first rate shape for the coming season. Riding, sailing, bathing and fishing may there be enjoyed to their fullest extent, and no pains will be spared to make a stay at Searboro pleasant one. We have no hesitancy in assuring the tourist and pleasure seeker that they will find this house, under the new appointment, like the proprietor, O. K.

—The sch. Joseph Duncan, Capt. Turner, from Bangor, Capt. Orne and will be a total loss.

—The Portland Press makes a handsome apology for having in a thoughtless moment spoken of Bangor as "away down east." We accept the apology.

MAINE HOMŒOPATHIC SOCIETY.—The Bath Times says that the third annual meeting of the society assembled in Bath Tuesday, at the office of Dr. Payne. About 20 members were present. Dr. H B Babb of Rockport, Vice President, in the chair, and Dr. Charle A. Cochran of Winthrop, Secretary. The roll being called, the President not having arrived, his address, the business in order, was passed over, and the minutes of the last meeting were read. The Treasurer, Dr. F. W. Paine, and Dr. W. E. Payne of Bath reported for him, which report was satisfactory and was accepted.

Dr. W. E. Payne, of the Committee on Clinical Medicines, reported. He spoke of the importance of making a record of all extraordinary symptoms, and of the will of trusting to memory, and then [illegible] of his own practice. There were no peculiar cases except an epidemic influenza, the symptoms of which he described, a weak [illegible] of heart lung and other diseases, and the remedies he had found successful.

Dr. Wm. Gallupe of Bangor, of the same committee, reported his treatment in a case of ovarian tumor of twenty years standing, and the remedies which effected a cure.—Homœopathy being used. Dr. G also recorded cases that had been of a severe and typhoidal character.

Dr. Burrows of Garland, made an interesting statement in reference to several cases in his city, where great improvement had been made by attending physicians. He told of a man he saw the day before who had a knee pan in his pocket, which he received by taken from his knee, though he had it replaced ones in their proper places. There seemed to be some doubt among the doctor about the man's veracity.

Dr. Gallupe of Bangor made further interesting remarks in regard to his practice.

The Committee on Surgery were absent, and Dr. Bell of Auburn read a report for them.

NATIONAL PEACE JUBILEE.—The first day's sale of single tickets in this city amounted to $40,000. An order was received from Cincinnati for 1,000. Tickets may be secured in Bangor at Duren's Book store, where a plan of the Coliseum may be seen.

A BIG DRIVE.—The Pioneer says Gilman & Dole, last Thursday, finished driving nine millions of lumber, the whole out of their lumber's operations on Beaver Brook. The spring has been very favorable for getting lumber to market.

HOULTON BRANCH.—The Pioneer says the stockholders have done something more than talk. They have voted to issue bonds to the amount of $60,000 to complete the road to Houlton, and have authorized the directors to issue the bonds as fast as the road is completed. The contract for the construction of the road has been awarded to Messrs. Hall, Quimby & Co., and the work is to be completed by the first of January next. The road is to be built in a substantial manner, and the bonds are to be issued only as the road is completed.

Mr. Trafton has been there and will give a very pleasing account of his visit to that country, and will interest all. Rev. John Allen gave an interesting account of his own religious experience.

Rev. S. Cumming, of Boston, followed, and Rev. Alexander Smith referred to the Home for Little Wanderers in that city.

In the evening, Rev. C. Stone, of Buckport, delivered the Missionary sermon from the words "Then doubted where unto the thing would grow." It was a very able and interesting discourse. The singing was very spirited and excellent.

The services to-day will consist of a morning prayer meeting at 9 o'clock, and an hour of praise from 9:45 to 10. The regular business will then be continued till 12.

At 2 P. M., the funeral services of deceased members will be held.

In the evening, at 7½ o'clock, the anniversary of the Foreign Christian Union Society will take place. Rev. Mr. Gee, Agent of the Society, will address the meeting. All interested in the political, social and religious condition of the freedmen, will no doubt be interested in the discourse. Whoever he has spoken on this subject, the audience have been highly gratified.

—The examination of candidates for the appointment of Cadet at West Point, commenced in the Common Council room yesterday and will be continued to-day. "Little May."

See, she stands, my little May,
Where the sun and shadow mix
Shake her little locks and swing
Tune out music with her feet.

Minerals in this single boy—
And the thrushes sing and sing
Loving to keep company
With so glad, so pure a thing.

Mine! this creature of the dawn
With the sweet rose breath of fl
That blows comes, I wonder much,
To a world so cold as ours.

Do I say the world is cold?
No! she loves me little May:
From my heart its cloud of care
With her smiles she draws away.

Strokes my face with dimpled ha
With her warm kiss, soft and fa Crowds my face: the world looks
Through the sunshine of her h

Still she walks in Edenshades;
To her guileless baby white,
With a heart of peace, with eyes
Full of wonder and delight.

Inner est of fruit forbid.
In her thoughts no bitter leave:
Child, she knows of sin, she never Through a mingled earth and h

I can see her in the light—
As without the gates of stand.
In the shadow, in the cold—
See the angel set in third.

I must stand with weed and thorn
I must suffer, watch and wait,
I must lay this body down,
Ere I can repass the gate.

Gracious spirits the love man
Whisper through her rosy sleep,
And she smiles: if God should see Whisp'ring me I could but weep

Dumb things love me—little May—Could they shrink from eyes like Full of faith that knows no fear,
Eyes that hold no mysteries.

On the gravel May will rush,
Gambol, keep her tiny pace,
Heedful to her baby grace,
Slowly turn the wisest face.

Watch her hand for trembled calve.
Wait her will, and fearing stand
Have long patience till the please Take it lightly from her hand.

Willing oft her baby hands
Thus have held me without a float;
Shall his little eyes see sleep
While she curls her nursery one

At her round pink finger tips
Tenderly the dove will peck;
Chirp with sad inquietude,
With his head against her neck.

Can his gentle soul suffer,
Knowing that her heart is meek,
And the kitten makes his paw
Velvet soft, and pats her cheek.

THE NORTHERN LIGHTS. The New-Journal of Commerce, in a carefully sidered article as if from some scie pen, submits the following theory to plain the phenomena of the aurora alis, as displayed in the recent magnif exhibitions. The subjoined extract will be interesting at this time:

The aurora borealis is the discha accumulated electricity in the atmosp furnishing the same robes to natu dashes of lightning under other condi
The phenomena of the northern light in all respects, electrical. But the nature of Thursday's aurora was strated conclusively by its effec graph wires. When a thunder curs the wires become charged with tricity, which sometimes affects perversely that they cannot be work and at other times furnishes an substitute for the galvanic battery.
Precisely these effects were obse
Thursday night. At New York and Philadelphia, and some other the auroral electricity obstructed and enabled operators to work them out recourse to batteries. At St John Newfoundland, the most northern from which we have any report, th seriously interrupted the operation telegraph—possibly because the supplied was too strong for the done. No doubt remains after the mony given by many intelligent ers in various parts of the country, the aurora is attended by the enormous quantities of electricity.

The theory which we propose is the only one which explains why the borealis is seen only in the arctic and tarctic) and temperate zones rarely, in the torrid zone—and is visible here only (or chiefly) in winter or spring months—not in mer. In the tropic zone and in months, the accumulated electricity in atmosphere is discharged different conditions, as thunder, during heavy showers of rain

TAKING THE STAGE OUT. A pompo well dressed individual entered a bank in Boston, and addressing the teller, who is somewhat of a wag, inquired:

"Is the cashier in?"

"Sir, sir," was the reply.

"Well, I am dealing in coins, supply, or New England banks pretty largely, and suppose it will be proper for me to com with the cashier."

"I suppose it will," said the teller.

"Very well; I will wait."

The pedlar took a chair and sat compo edly for a half hour, waiting for the cashier.
By that time he began to grow impa but sat composedly twisting his chair for about twenty minutes, and finally no prospect of a change in his circumstances asked the teller how soon the cashier would be in.

"Well, I don't know exactly," said the waggish teller; "but I expect him in about eight weeks. He has just gone to Lake Superior, and he told me he thought that he should be back in about that time."

Peddler thought he would not wait.

"O, you may stay if you wish" said th teller, very blandly. "We have no ob tion to your sitting here in the day time, and you can probably find some place in town where they will be glad to keep y nights."

The pompous peddler disappeared wi out a word.

—An old batchelor picking up a book, exclaimed, upon seeing a wood-cut repre senting a man kneeling at the feet of a woman. "Before I would kneel to a w man, I would—bicycrote—my neck with a rope and strangle it." And then turning to a young woman, he inquired, "Do you not think it would be the best I could do?" "It would undoubtedly be the best for the wo man," was the sarcastic reply.

the rescue of the reputation of New York boarding-houses.
